

NIA IMPACT
COLLABORATORY
TRANSFORMING DEMENTIA CARE

Grand Rounds

The National Institute on Aging (NIA) Imbedded Pragmatic Alzheimer's Disease (AD) and AD-related dementias (ADRD) Clinical Trials (IMPACT) Collaboratory works to build the nation's capacity to conduct pragmatic clinical trials (ePCTs) of interventions embedded within health care systems for people living with dementia and their care partners. The IMPACT Collaboratory hosts free webinars on the 3rd Thursday of each month at 12 noon ET addressing these issues. If you are not yet on our mailing list, join here to receive IMPACT updates and reminders. Registration is not required, and a recording of the webinar as well as a companion podcast will be available after the event on our website, impactcollaboratory.org.

“Causal Inference in Pragmatic Trials”

Eleanor Murray, PhD

Assistant Professor of Public Health

Thursday, March 16, 2023

12:00 – 1:00 pm ET

Dr. Eleanor (Ellie) Murray is an assistant professor of Epidemiology at Boston University School of Public Health with expertise in causal inference. Her work focuses on improving methods for evidence-based decision-making and human-data interaction, as well as improving the translation of methodological advances into practical applied work. Application areas include HIV, HPV, cancer, cardiovascular disease, reproductive health research, tuberculosis research, access to care, psychiatric disorders, musculoskeletal disorders, social and environmental epidemiology, and maternal and adolescent health. Dr Murray also conducts meta-research evaluating bias in existing research. She has an ScD in Epidemiology and MSc in Biostatistics from Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health, where she also did her postdoctoral fellowship in the Program on Causal Inference, an MPH in Epidemiology from Columbia Mailman School of Public Health, and a BSc in Biology from McGill University. Dr Murray is the co-host of the podcast Casual Inference, an Associate Editor for Social Media at the American Journal of Epidemiology, and a science communicator under the handle @epiellie on Twitter.
